

Zeki Balli, Dipl.-Ing.

"I believe that in the knowledge era, the success of an organization will depend upon the ability to unlock, orient and mobilize the positive emotional energy of its entire team, as well as its ability to stimulate their creativity and their power to innovate."

Experience / Background

Zeki Balli, intercultural management consultant and coach, has held significant senior management positions including: Managing Director in Germany, Secrétaire Général in France, General Manager in Israel and Management Consultant and Coach in Turkey and Germany.

He draws on more than 25 years of international management experience including extensive interaction with European, Anglo-Saxon, South American, Middle East and Far East business partners. In these capacities he managed business relationship with customers such as General Electric, Motorola, Siemens, Philips, The Paris Stock Exchange. He has in depth knowledge of various industries, electronics, traffic control, and manufacturing sectors.

Zeki has developed and implemented company specific programs, among them: Culture Change, Process Optimization, Customer Focused Change Initiative, and Accelerated Change Implementation.

Focusing on the "human capital" and the invisible communication and relationship networks, he was able to accelerate and harmonize the implementation processes.

Areas of Expertise

- Managing in Uncertain Times: Executive Coaching and Consulting
- Unlocking and orienting the human potential
- Shifting the Mindset & Leading Culture Change
- Dealing with the human dimension of Change

Languages

Fluent in German, English, French, Hebrew and Turkish

Education

Zeki holds a Dipl.-Ing. degree (equivalent to M. Sc.) in Mechanical Engineering.