

Clarissa M. Bellstedt

Experience/Background

Ms. Bellstedt is a highly experienced executive coach, corporate trainer, assessor, and strategy consultant. She has been living and working in Europe, US, Singapore, Hong Kong and China, and has gained extensive corporate experience. Her coaching clients are mainly senior executives at the Managing Director and Director level and high potential professionals.

Ms. Bellstedt has been managing successfully in the corporate world for over 15 years. During her 13 years with BASF, Germany's largest chemical company, Clarissa held a variety of managerial positions within the human resources and internal consulting functions, including four years stationed in Shanghai in a regional role. Clarissa was also a Senior Consultant with AchieveGlobal for several years, where she developed learning solutions for major clients in Asia to align activities of the organization with the business strategy. In 2001 she founded CB Organizational Resources in Hong Kong and in 2004 she expanded into Singapore with CM Organizational Resources – Asia. Clarissa and her partners aim to promote coaching in the corporate environment and help align people and development initiatives with the business strategy.

Ms. Bellstedt's areas of expertise range from business strategy, sales management, human resources management, and organizational effectiveness to change management and leadership. Clarissa's vast experience in business and in successfully leading teams makes her a credible partner for managers on all hierarchical levels. She works well with a large variety of business sectors and personalities.

Clients

Alcatel, AstraZeneca, CMP, Colgate Palmolive, CSFB, Haworth, Ingram Micro, J&J, JRS, Merck, Sharp & Dohme, Nokia, Norwood, Pfizer, Rockwell Automation.

Education

Master's Degree in Business Management from the University in Mainz, Germany
Business Administration, Eckerd College, St. Petersburg, Florida, USA