

Maura Fallon

Experience/Background

Maura Fallon is an international executive coach and consultant based in Hong Kong specializing in coaching Western and Asian executives and executive teams on how to manage change in multicultural situations. She has over 25 years of experience helping people and organizations attain maximum effectiveness. Her background includes working with CEOs, senior managers, and boards of directors of medium-sized private companies to Fortune 100 corporations.

Ms. Fallon's corporate background includes creating the Learning and Development function in Asia Pacific for AlliedSignal. She worked with AlliedSignal through the Honeywell International and General Electric mergers to enable executives and their teams to more effectively manage transitions and to retain and motivate talent.

As an executive coach, Ms. Fallon works with CEOs, senior level executives and teams in managing transformation, building work groups and developing talent. Her practical business background as an executive dealing with the complex challenges across Asia Pacific, where she has lived for over 20 years, is blended with her extensive experience as an executive coach. She has worked with clients in petro-chemicals, heavy industry, manufacturing, telecommunications, finance, aerospace, high-tech, automotive and transportation industries.

Clients

ARCO, AlliedSignal, Citibank, Conforama, FedEx, Golin/Harris Forrest, Honeywell, JP Morgan, Kone, Manulife, Marriott, Nokia, Philips, Standard Chartered Bank, Sun Life Financial, United States Consulate General—Hong Kong, Taipei Business Bank, 3Com, Watson Wyatt

Education

Ms. Fallon holds a BA from Mount Holyoke College and an MA from Antioch University in intercultural relations. She is a Six Sigma Green Belt.